OFFICERS, SCOUTS TO HANDLE CROWD NIGHT OF FOURTH

Larger Crowd Than Those in Previous Years Expected To View Fireworks

PLENTY OF PATROLMEN

Precautions to Prevent Fires—Day Big One for Country Club Members

While there will be no celebration in Upland during the day of the Fourth of July, it is expected that the largest crowd yet assembled to witness the annual fireworks spectacle will gather in the vicinity of Lone Hill, where the pyrotechnics will be "touched off." Many large and new set pieces will be among the collection—and the fireworks are already in storage in Upland awaiting only the time for the big display. Lone Hill will be surrounded on all sides by the thousands who will gather for the event.

Arrangements have been made to handle traffic and also to eliminate any fire hazard which may exist. Captain Freeman of the State Highway Patrol has given assurances there will be plenty of patrolmen on the job to handle the crowd. The Boy Scouts, under the direction of Paul Schowalter, will also be on hand to do their bit. They will assist in the parking of cars and render such other service as needed.

The Forestry department has given assurance that a fire truck will be at the scene of the display and in readiness to extinguish any fire that may be started.

The Fourth will be a big day for members of Red Hill Country club and their families and house guests. Owing to limited capacity, Secretary Tommy Sheehan emphasizes that house guests are the only guests who may be taken to the club that day and evening. There will be various golf tournaments during the day—mixed foursomes, flag tournament and low net and match play. In the evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, there will be sport dance and the site of the Red Hill club house affords an excellent point from which to view the fireworks display, which will also begin at 8 o'clock.

Chicken dinners will be served on reservation, up to 8 in the evening, and reservations for all dinners must be made not later than 4 p. m. on July 3. The Fourth of July is also open day for club members to take their picnic baskets and enjoy the day.

Dr. Foster Conducts Final Services at St. Mark's Sunday

Dr. Bert Foster conducted his last service in St. Mark's Episcopal church Sunday, bringing to a close a ministry of 48 years, 16 years of that time having been spent as rector of St. Mark's.

Dr. Foster's resignation, submitted in the spring, became effective on June 1; however he volunteered to supply the pulpit during June and on the last Sunday in this month his retirement became complete.

Dr. and Mrs. Foster were honored recently at a parish dinner at which they were paid high tribute.

Dr. Foster's successor, the Rev. George Barrett, will take up his duties as rector of St. Mark's in September and Dr. Foster states he will be available for any necessary services or assistance for the parishioners until the new rector arrives.

Dr. and Mrs. Foster have vacated the rectory and are now located at 520 Euclid avenue.

Beardsleys Home From Trip Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Beardsley returned to their home this morning from abroad, making the return trip on the Queen Mary. They spent about three and a half weeks in England, passing the time most enjoyably visiting and sightseeing. They had planned on going to Paris, but because of the labor strikes did not do so.

Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley's two daughters, Joan and Virginia, who were with relatives at Elkhart, Ind., while their parents were away, accompanied them home.

Once Sagebrush and Boulders, Now Flourishing Water Garden

Six years ago this month sagebrush and boulders—today an acre of ponds filled with water plants from all over the world. A story of pioneering is that of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Ness who have built water gardens in San Antonio Heights which attract nation-wide recognition.

One hundred and fifteen varieties of lilies may be found on their place as well as 60 varieties of other water plants. So extensive is the growth of the lilies that it is necessary to keep each kind in a separate pond to avoid confusion.

"When Mr. Van Ness's health began to fail in Fullerton," Mrs. Van Ness explained when telling of the establishment of the water gardens, "we came across an article in a popular magazine entitled, "Gold From Goldfish." This story told how a young fellow, a college graduate, built a prosperous business selling goldfish. This gave us an idea, and gradually the plans for a water garden developed.

"Somehow we had a picture in our minds of the place before we ever dreamed of having one," she continued, "but the next problem was to find the spot. We drove all over Orange county without success. Then Robert and I returned to Upland (we lived here 27 years ago) to visit Uncle Will Jackson, who has since passed away. He suggested that we buy the Charlie Hayes' place and we did. It was like coming home."

After clearing the sagebrush from their lot, Mr. and Mrs. Van Ness sat down on the rocks and planned their gardens. Then, while Mrs. Van Ness gave directions, her husband shifted stones here and there with a spade. Through careful arrangement, their ponds follow the natural lay of the land.

In explaining the extent of their business Mrs. Van Ness said. "We have sent plants to Honolulu, Hawaii, and even as far as South America. Most of our trade is mail orders—we merely pack the plants and ship them. You know, eastern people think anything that comes from California is marvelous."

Of all their growing wonders, the San Antonio Heights couple prize most the stalactites in their largest grotto. Calcium in the water and the porous ceiling of the miniature cavern accounts for the unusual formation.

Pests are unknown in the water lily business, according to the Uplanders. Although aphis sometimes appear on the plants, all one needs to do is to spray them with water, for when the insects fall, the goldfish eat them.

A story of pioneering with new plants on new soil—a story of hard won success, is that of Mr. and Mrs. Van Ness, who sought health and happiness in the foothills. Six years ago sagebrush and boulders—today an acre of water gardens.

WORK TO START ON NEW CITRUS HOUSE

New Mountain View Packing House Will Cost $75,000 To Construct

Construction of the new Mountain View packing house on Stowell street, just east of South Second avenue, noted by The News some days ago, will begin tomorrow, with a rapid job of razing on the old building having been completed in the last week, according to Earl Johnson, manager.

To cost $75,000, the new packing house will be approximateley 187 by 140 feet in size, with a basement 90 by 140 feet being placed under the rear portion of the building. The structure will be of cement and wood construction, with a dome roof. It is expected that the building will be finished by Oct. 1. A new office of the same construction as the building will be erected at the corner of Stowell street and Second avenue.

The latest in equipment and air conditioning will be used in the new house, with many assets to loading included. Clyde Jones, local contractor, is doing the work on the building, which was designed by W. W. Ache, architect.

The offices of the Mountain View Fruit Assn. are located temporarily at the Upland Transfer & Storage Co., 138 Second avenue.

Honeymoon Brought To Abrupt End by Highway Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clewett (Marjorie Jackson), whose marriage occurred on Sunday, June 21, experienced an abrupt ending of their honeymoon and a narrow escape from tragedy in an automobile accident while motoring near Ensenada, Mexico. In the accident, which occurred on a grade, the car, headed into the mountainside to avoid going over a precipice, turned over and Mr. Clewett was painfully injured, remaining unconscious for some time. Mrs. Clewett also suffered bruises and lacerations.

Mr. Clewett's brother, George Clewett of Escondido, was reached by telephone and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Clewett to Upland, arriving here Friday. Mr. Clewett has been confined to his bed, but is improving.

Frank Swain May Be Allowed to Return Home in Two Weeks

Physicians believe that Frank Swain, injured in the rehearsal of a play at Chaffey junior college a month ago, has shown sufficient improvement following an operation Friday to return to his home in two or three weeks.

For some time it was thought the youth was on the verge of death, but with the danger of infection past, a series of operations which removed the wadding from the wall of his lung and allowed the wound to drain have taken him from danger. The operation Friday was to install another drain.

Although one lung is reported to be still in a collapsed state, physicians hope to restore it by means of surgery.

The accident occurred when Swain, rehearsing a part in the play at Chaffey, placed a pistol with a blank cartridge in it to his side and fired. The wadding from the shell penetrated his chest, inflicting the wound that so nearly caused death.

SEWER SYSTEM IS TWO-THIRDS DONE

West Street Area Link Now Being Started to Complete Network

Upland's new sewer system, which was started last Nov. 11 under WPA, is now about two-thirds completed. Work is being started on the lines in the northeast section of the city, the final link.

When completed the improved system will give sewerage service to nearly every resident within the city limits. This network in Upland connects with the new disposal plant in Ontario, with the feeder line from Upland placed along Campus avenue.

The first section to be completed is the southeast part, which is now in use. A cross feeder branches from the Campus avenue line, running along Seventh street across Euclid avenue to the west side. From Seventh street to Stowell street there are four lines running north and south. A short pipe has been laid along Hyland street above Seventh, from Campus avenue.

The west side line, which runs from Seventh street north, between Laurel and Euclid avenues, turns west at Euclid place and continues to Fern avenue. The northwest network covers most of the original subdivision.

Work now being done in the northeast portion is centered around West street, north of Foothill boulevard. The Campus avenue line extends across Foothill boulevard to connect with the line of the disposal plant.

"Because of the uncertainty of the supply of WPA labor, work on the sewer system has been spasmodic since it has been started. The job is being done in several units, and no initial financial outlay has been made for the project," says R. W. Derby, who is acting in behalf of R. G. Manley, city service manager, who is on his vacation.

Upland Classmates Meet by Accident On New York Dock

Separating a few days after they graduated together from the Upland junior high school early this month, and meeting again entirely by accident on a dock in the great harbor of New York City, was the unique experience of two Upland girls, Miss Hope Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Williamson of Twenty-first street and Mountain avenue, and Miss Dorothy Manley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Manley, 757 Washington boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs Manley and family and Mr. and Mrs. Williamson and family are making a several weeks tour of the east, leaving at different times, by different routes and with no plans to met at any place.

That the two groups should go to the same dock, on the same day and at the same hour, and among the seven millions of persons in the great city, should come face to face 3000 miles from home, was a striking coincidence and a thrilling adventure for the classmates.

Next Issue News Will Be One Day Early, Thursday

On account of the Fourth of July holiday coming on Saturday and because practically all places of business in Upland will be closed on that day, the next issue of The Upland News will be on Thursday, one day earlier than usual.

This is done in order to accommodate our advertisers and enable them to pass on the benefit of their week end advertising to their patrons. It will be necessary for buyers to purchase enough supplies on Friday to last them over the Fourth of July holiday and until Monday.

Those who have news items for The News will please get them in as early as possible, thus aiding very much in our effort to reach our readers a day early.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Freeman of Vernon drive are enjoying vacations visits from their granddaughters who live in Norwalk. Miss Dorothy Bailey has returned to Norwalk after a two weeks visit and the second granddaughter, Miss Barbara Bailey, has arrived for a stay of two weeks.

PETITION SEEKS GOVERNOR RECALL

Five Charges Set Forth in Document Circulated in San Bernardino

A petition asking for the recall of Gov. Merriam was filed with County Clerk Harry L. Allison yesterday, it having been circulated in San Bernardino and bears the signatures of 57 residents of that city. Similar petitions have been circulated in other counties of the state. In order to institute a recall election 12 per cent of the votes cast at the last gubernatorial election must be secured. In this county 6403 signatures would be required, there having been a total of 53,353 votes cast for that office in 1934.

The petition filed yesterday alleges the following:

"1. His actions as governor have been controlled by the monopolistic lobbyists and professional politicians to the great detriment of the good and welfare of the citizens of the state of California.

"2. He has broken faith with the citizens of this state by plunging this state deeper and deeper into debt in violation of his solemn campaign pledge.

"3. He assembled lobbyists, banker politicians and representatives of special interests for a secret tax conference to create a new tax program to be imposed upon our citizens.

"4. He has permitted and sanctioned publication of misleading and false reports of the financial condition of this state, totally disregarding the figures and estimates of the state controller charged with the responsibility of keeping the state's accounts.

"5. He has placed men controlled by the monopolists in the most important branches of the state administration to the great detriment of our citizens and for the benefit of the special interests."

REGISTRATION FOR PRIMARIES CLOSES JULY 16

Number Changes of Party Affiliation Already Made at Chamber of Commerce

TOWNSENDITES CHANGING

Mrs. Harry Plum Designated as Registrar by W. V. Combs, Deputy Clerk

Persons who have not yet registered for the August primaries and those desiring to change their party affiliation before that time must file notice of intention to do so by July 16. Deputy County Clerk Walter V. Combs, in charge of the election department of the county, has appointed Mrs. Harry Plum as official registrar for Upland. Mrs. Plum is centrally located—at the chamber of commerce office—and if she is not there when voters call they may register with Judge Fred H. Jacobs, who is located in the chamber building. Anyone not registering by July 16 will not be entitled to vote in the primaries, which occur Aug. 25, and no change of party affiliation will be permitted after July 16.

Mrs. Plum states that about 15 changes have already been registered here, most of them being from Republican to Democratic. Cause of this change appears to be the candidacy of Harry R. Sheppard of Yucaipa, who has filed as candidate for Congressman on the Democratic ticket and has let it be known that he is for the Townsend old age plan and who will no doubt receive a large vote on that account. Judging by conversation, many of those changing for that reason will vote for the Republican presidential and other candidates at the general election in November.

Mrs. Plum states that a number of Uplanders have registered three times since the first of the year, the Townsend candidates having much to do with the changes in each instance.

Mr. and Mrs. John I. Sampson of North Campus avenue, left on Monday for Steamboat Springs, Colo., where they will make their annual summer visit with their son and family.

WHY WELFARE SHOP NEEDS STOCK NOW

Welfare League Members Tell Of Many Calls Made for Summer Clothing

In order that they may save whatever money they have to buy new clothing for the children when school opens this fall, many needy families are calling for used summer clothing at the Welfare shop on Second avenue above Ninth street, operated by the Junior Welfare League.

It has come to the attention of the Welfare League that many persons have thought there is not much demand for clothing at this time of the year and therefore contributions to the Welfare shop are not so necessary as during the winter.

The fact is, members of the League state, that many people are calling for more used summer clothing than the shop is able to supply.

There always is demand at all seasons of the year for clothing of all kinds, but at present the shop committee particularly desires contributions of used summer clothing. Contributions of such clothing made now for men, women and children, especially for men and boys, will enable many children to enter school this fall dressed in clothing that looks as well and is as warm as that of their more fortunate schoolmates.

If those having contributions of any kind will notify Mrs. J. Lynward Grahame, 533 Third avenue, telephone 316-277, she will send the collector for the articles. Or they may be delivered directly to the shop, which is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on each Tuesday and Friday.

You May Dream About These, But One Really Seen

Somewhere between Alta Loma and Cucamonga one of those strange snakes that are only dreamed about is winding its way.

While tending his grove a rancher in that district came upon the reptile. It is about 12 feet long and 3 inches thick, with a black head and pink body. When the rancher saw the snake it docilely twisted off and climbed a nearby tree.

This unusual story came to light when a rancher came into the Upland chamber of commerce and asked if anyone there could tell him what kind of a snake it might have been.

We've heard many "big fish" stories—and no doubt our readers will call this a "fishy" snake story. Then — again — we've heard of fellows "seeing snakes" during a siege of "delicious tremblers." However, we were given to understand snakes seen under such circumstances were green—and not yellow and pink, as this one was described.

You can draw your own conclusions. We give you the story as it was told to us.

HUEBNER RETURNED TO UPLAND CHURCH

Dr. Engle Back to Whittier, Dr. Staveley to Phoenix, New Superintendent

As was anticipated and in accordance with the understanding when Rev. Paul Huebner came to serve the Upland Methodist church as pastor some months ago, he was returned to the local church by the annual conference which has just been held in Long Beach. Dr. Irvin A. Engle, who was transferred to the Whittier church and under whose pastorate the present church here was built a few years ago, was returned to Whittier, one of the largest churches in the conference, with Rev. Roy D. Ford as assistant pastor.

Dr. James A. Stavely, who served the Upland church a number of years just preceding Dr. Engle's pastorate, returns to the Garfield Avenue Methodist church in Phoenix, Ariz., for his third year. Dr. S. S. Sampson, pastor here from 1900 to 1905, was reappointed superintendent of the Glendale-Fresno district. Mrs. Sampson is a sister of Mrs. Ernest H. Gibson of Upland.

Dr. Charles Kent, another former Upland pastor, who gave up his pastorate at Monrovia some time ago, was unable to attend conference on account of poor health. He is living at Altadena, having been succeeded at Monrovia by Dr. J. L. Gillies, former superintendent of this district, who returns to serve that church another year.

Dr. Charles F. Seitter is succeeded as superintendent of this district by Dr. F. G. H. Stevens, who was transferred from the Long Beach district. Dr. Seitter goes to the Garden Grove church as pastor.

The church at Cucamonga will be served another year by S. J. Lindsay, while Arthur E. Schultz is returned to Ontario church.

Many Local Nurses Attend Convention Of National Group

The biennial national convention of the American Nurses association, held last week in Los Angeles, drew a large attendance of nurses from the West End, and the Sixth district, of which Upland and Ontario are a part, had the honor of winning two important offices.

Mrs. Gabrelle Mulvaney of San Bernardino was named head of the California League of Nursing Education and Mrs. Harriet L. Fleming of Ontario was placed on the board of directors of the American Nurses association.

The national association includes a membership of 120,000 and 11,000 were in attendance at the convention.

Among the large number of local nurses attending one or more sessions of the convention were Mrs. Elizabeth Lehman, Miss Mildred Fipp, Mrs. Anna Mae Owens, Mrs. Marie Swenson, Mrs. Frances Gadow, Miss Marcia Cadnum, Mrs. Lucille Barnhart, and a number of others.

Swimming Sports at Chaffey Plunge During Summer

While it is not definite as yet whether the Chaffey pool will enter the Inland Aquatic league, it is certain that a program of competitive water sports will be conducted at the local pool on Thursday evenings, said Fred H. Clapp, swimming instructor, today.

Chaffey has received an invitation to join with San Bernardino, Redlands and Colton in a swimming league and hold aquatic meets on an organized schedule throughout the summer. As yet Chaffey officials have not decided as to the feasibility of participating in such a plan.

Water sports enthusiasts may be assured of much swimming activity, however, as diving contests, races and water polo games will be arranged for among the athletes in the surrounding community every Thursday night in the event the league is not entered. There will be no admission charge to the contests, and the meets will in no way interfere with the recreational swimming on the nights of the meets.

"Swimming in the Chaffey district has been retarded during the last few years, and therefore the number of persons in the community who know how to swim is quite a bit below normal," says Mr. Clapp. "Because of this we are experiencing a rush of those who wish to take swimming lessons at the new plunge." Mr. Clapp has taught over 50 people to swim since the pool was opened this summer. "On an average it takes only two lessons for a person to learn to stay above water, and in four or five lessons, one becomes quite an accomplished swimmer."

CITRUS SCHOOL FOR INSTRUCTORS OPENS

Instructors of High Schools of State Gather for Summer Course

Twenty-five teachers of agriculture in high schools from all parts of the state were present Monday morning when the citriculture summer course sponsored by the state agricultural department, opened in the Chaffey junior college, with Harry M. Alter of Chaffey as director.

Following the preliminaries, the first "lesson" in the course was presented by J. C. Watt, production manager for the Armstrong nurseries, who discussed propagation of citrus.

Later in the morning a field trip was made to the Armstrong nursery on Nineteenth street and in the afternoon orchard heating was discussed by Floyd D. Young, government meteorologist.

Today the session was held at the Riverside Citrus Experiment station and two field trips were made.

Similar schedules are planned for each day of the two weeks course, with field trips being made to various places, including Upland packing plants, and Chaffey instructors attending state the sessions are so unusually interesting that it is regretted the course could not be opened to all the growers.

Several more instructors are expected to enroll at once.

Lions Club Delegates Home From Conclave; Stop at Ghost Cities

J. W. Mehl and Earl Marsh, delegates from the Upland Lions club to the Fourth district convention held at Reno, Nev., last week, returned home early Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Thompson, who were also at the convention, will be away from Upland several weeks on an outing.

On the return trip Messrs. Mehl and Marsh stopped at the ghost mining towns of Virginia City, Nev., and Bodie, Calif. Once a thriving city of 40,000, Bodie now has a population of about 100 persons, while Virginia City, which now numbers less than 1000 souls as its residents, "in the good old days" had a population of 125,000. Mining activities have been resumed to some extent at both places of late years.

The Lions elected George Litdig of Oakland as their district governor for the coming year and Santa Monica was chosen as the convention city for next year.

NEW WAGE SCALE FOR WPA BECOMES EFFECTIVE JULY 1

No changes in Monthly Pay, But Less Working Hours In Most Cases

DOORS OF PROGRAM OPEN

Few Additions Expected in County During Month as Quota Not Increased

Practically all of San Bernardino's unemployed are expected to be eligible for work under the federal work relief program to be started tomorrow, pay to be according to the prevailing wage schedule announced yesterday by Frank Y. McLaughlin, state administrator. In the fifth WPA area, consisting of Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, 7658 workers already on the rolls will be affected by the new rates, 4559 of these being on the program in this county.

According to the district director, Ralph B. Smith, there will be no changes in amount of pay received, but less working hours per month in most cases. In this county the doors of the work program are to be thrown open, according to Mr. Smith, to all unemployed except those too old or physically infirm, residents under 18, aliens illegally in the country and ex-convicts. Few additions to the WPA rolls are expected during July, as the quota for the month has not been increased.

The monthly wage scale remains at from $48 for unskilled labor to $77 for skilled workers. The schedule of hours and wages has been broken down into manual and non-manual jobs.

For manual occupations the number of hours per month and rate of pay per hour follow in the different classifications: Class I, unskilled, sewing room workers 120 hours monthly at 40 cents an hour, building construction laborers 90 hours at 53 cents an hour, all other unskilled laborers 108 hours at 44 cents.

Class II, semi skilled, except machine operators in sewing rooms 84 hours at 65 cents, machine operators in sewing projects 120 hours at 4 cents.

Class III, skilled labor such as carpenters 78 hours at 90 cents, especially skilled manual laborers 60 hours at $1.17.

In class I of the non-manual occupations, unskilled clerks and office boys 120 hours at 40 cents. In class II, including the skilled clerks and office help 108 hours at 51 cents; Class III, skilled non-manual such as accountants, 108 hours at 65 cents; Class IV, skilled such as statisticians 190 hours at 86 cents; Class V, professional occupations such as teachers and doctors 78 hours at 99 cents.

Hours and rates for the Federal projects for drama, music and theatre have not been fixed.

"The number of people added to our work relief rolls," Director Smith explained, "depends entirely on the quota we receive from state headquarters. We have submitted figures on the approximate number of persons unemployed in the district.

"The quota is based on these figures plus the available money. Our quota for July is the same as for June, which is about the number of people on our district program, 7,658.

"The additions we make during July will be to replace those leaving the rolls for private employment. Our first job will be to pick up from SRA those who have been on relief between May and November, 1935. After this group has been cared for, we can add others."

Poisoning of Pets Reported to Police

Several cases of pets being poisoned have been reported to the Upland polic department recently.

An Italian shepherd dog belonging to Ralph Owen, 536 Eighth street, was poisoned this morning, according to a report to the police by young Owen. This is the third report within the last few days that has come to the local police departmen.. A dog and cat were similarly disposed of last week.

The police department is on the lookout for the person or persons responsible for the poisonings.

Skyrocketing Spuds

As potato prices go skyrocketing, the modest, unassuming staple that we've always taken so much for granted has emerged from obscurity to take a bow in the spotlight of public interest.

Today twenty-five cents will purchase only five pounds or less of No. 1 tubers, whereas a year ago you could buy twelve pounds for that. American housewives are indignant about it, columnists are commenting about it, and husbands who once ate spuds with indifference are pausing somewhat ruefully to notice how they really taste.

But there is jubilation among potato farmers. They have good crops desspite the nationwide shortage. And California's potato yield, while it's never shared the glamour attaching to our more famous products, is nevertheless worth some $10,000,000 in a good year.

Housewives complain and farmers rejoice when prices are high. It is the old paradox. But fortunately we have advanced a long way from the post war period, when dissatisfaction was rife on both sides because farmers got virtually nothing of the exhorbitant prices housewives were obliged to pay.

Meanwhile, perhaps the once lowly potato deserves all the attention it is now getting. True, a spud isn't beautiful, like an orange, say, or a peach, or a bunch of grapes. But it's there doing heavy duty in practically every dinner you eat.

Verily, the "Irish potato" now seems to be getting into the aristocratic class—he has advanced to the bracket of high price foods. Thus we may eexpect many of those fastidious persons who have for some time had no appetite for the lowly "spud" to now demand them in their daily diet. It's the old story—the things which do not cost much and are easy to get are not appreciated. Just as it goes with vegetables, fruits and other foods when they "are out of season"—they cost plenty but we must have them.

Funny creatures—we people—when it comes to the things we want.

We notice that the benefits of the AAA are getting pretty close to home—and that the Fontana Farms Co. at Fontana has been in the business of not raising corn and hogs the past year or two. According to Secretary Wallace's report this concern received $155,575 for participating in the corn-hog program in 1934. And—according to J. D. McGregor, secretary of the Fontana corporation—the company received additional funds for its participation during last year, a considerable amount still being owed the concern by the government. It is understood that the government's corn-hog payments to the Fontana Farms Co. have been considerably in excess of the $155,575 reported. No wonder the people of the country are "raising cane" because of the huge sums being paid various concerns for not raising things. It would be interesting to the ordinary individual to know just how much corn and how many hogs the Fontana Farms Co. did not raise in order to "earn" that vast amount of money. Democrats and Republicans alike are investigating these huge payments—and the report submitted showed one sugar concern received more than a million dollars in AAA benefits, this being the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., the report showing that most large sums were paid to sugar concerns.

There's a real point to the following, which Wm. Feather gets off in a little trade magazine that comes to this office: "Suppose you watch every electric lamp in the house, shutting off those that are not absolutely necessary. Suppose you close the unused rooms in the house, thereby saving the furnace heat for the rooms in which you live. Suppose you patronize the second-run movie houses. Suppose you put up with poor radio reception, thus postponing the purchase of new tubes. Suppose you eat prunes for breakfast instead of orange juice. Suppose you adjust your necktie so that the frayed edge doesn't show. Suppose you pay your bills in cash instead of by check, and so escape the bank's service charge. Suppose you keep track of your telephone calls to prevent billing for excess. Suppose you do without a fire in the open grate. Suppose you press your own trousers and burn one leg. The trousers are worth $10 of any man's money, which is $3.16 more than you saved during the last month by all your other economies."

If by any chance you do not think there is need of caution when you approach a railroad crossing driving your car these figures should interest you: Persons killed in accidents at highway-railroad grade crossings in 1935 totaled 1680, compared with 1554 in 1934. Persons injured in such accidents in 1935 totaled 4,658, an increase of 358 compared with the preceding year. The number of grade-crossing accidents in 1935 was 3,933, compared with 3,728 in 1934. There were more grade-crossing fatalities in 1935 than in any year since 1931.

New Deal financial policy seems to be told in the following figures: Receipts March 4, 1933, to May 18, $1936, $11,234,364,158; expenditures during same period, $22,541,245,376 Deficit $11,306,881,158. In other words—Franklin Delano Roosevelt and his New Deal assistants have spent a little more than two dollars for each dollar received in revenue. And "the good work still goes on."

Minimum Wage Laws Opposition Is Explained

In the June issue of Hi-Lites on Equal Rights, official bulletin issued by the Business Women's Legislative Council of California and edited by Mrs. Una R. Winter of Upland, is a discussion of the minimum wage laws that will be of interest to many local business women and to men, as well.

"Naturally, the Business Women's Legislative Council of California," the editor says, "is gratified with the decision of the Supreme court declaring unconstitutional New York state's minimum wage law for women, only. "This does not mean," she explains, "that the council favors exploitation of women workers but, rather, that any humane labor law must apply alike to all workers, irrespective of sex. And, undoubtedly, this decision clears the way for proper protective legislation applying to all workers (in the not too distant future), either under the present constitution or an amended one.

"The editor of a Los Angeles paper, in the June 3 issue, covers the case for and against in a brief and wholly satisfactory way. It reads in part:

"'The ground of legal objection to minimum wage acts is that they interfere with freedom of contract, which the court holds is guaranteed by the Constitution. The ground of economic and social objection to such acts is that, while well meant, they force those unable to earn the minimum wage into involuntary unemployment. Such persons, who might be wholly or partly self-supporting, are thus made objects of charity, in many cases much to their distress.

"'Then, too, minimum wage acts are difficult to enforce and not difficult to evade; and when they are not enforced rigidly, they work unfairly to employers and employees and probably do more harm than good. Their purpose—to protect women from labor exploitation—is laudable; in practice they actually operate to put women at a disadvantage in compeetition with men.'"

Miss Leabo Hostess At Merry Party For Friends

Miss Thurma Leabo was hostess Saturday night to a number of friends when she entertained with a foraging party at her home on West Ninth street, the guests coming from several neighboring communities.

The guests were paired by the hostess and each couple was given a list of articles, some of them very difficult to obtain, and allotted a certain time in which to find and bring them in. The search resulted in much scurrying about the countryside and Miss Dorothy Morris and her partner Woodrow Torgelson, were the first to complete a successful search and were awarded the prize.

When the search was concluded the guests gathered again at the Leabo home and a merry hour was enjoyed with refreshments being served at midnight.

Participating in the party were Miss Evelyn Foote of Upland and Harold Hayes of Pomona; Miss Dorothy Morris of Pomona and Woodrow Torgelson of Covina; Miss Louise Smithen of Pomona and Harold Daniels of Covina; Miss Cavagene Mallory and Robert Oaks, both of Pomona; the hostess, Miss Thurma Leabo of Upland, and Ralph Lichtey of Covina; Mr. and Mrs. Rollin L. Mrs. Foster Tells of Conference Held At Del Mar

Returning from Del Mar where she attended the summer conference held there by the Southern District Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Geo. S. Foster of Alta Loma, president of the San Bernardino County Federation, is enthusiastic over the splendid work accomplished and the worth while ideas advanced during the conference.

Mrs. John Stewart of Hemet, district president, presided during the two days conference and each day was filled with interesting programs, including several round table discussions.

Emphasizing the importance of greater knowledge concerning the practical and vital things that directly affect the lives of all people, Mrs. Lotta James of Hanford, president of the state federation, has asked that taxation and the state constitution be made the major themes of study by the club women during the coming year and her request was placed before the conference and heartily approved.

The desirability of including in programs a greater number of forums and panel discussions also was stressed.

Mrs. Stewart requested that all clubs make out their program schedules and arrange engagements for state officers and chairmen as early as possible. Mrs. James expects to be in the Southern district in January and February and Mrs. Stewart asks that clubs arrange a schedule of appearances as soon as can be done.

The annual Southern district convention will be held in Palm Springs on Nov. 17, 18, 19, when the annual election will take place.

In addition to the business and the arranged programs, several informal discussions of important club projects featured the conference.

AUTO VICTIM IN CRITICAL STATE

Collision at Foothill Boulevard And Mountain Avenue Injures Girl

Injured in a spectacular collision at Foothill boulevard and Mountain avenue at 12:20 Sunday morning, Mabel Massey, 20, of Ontario is still in a critical condition at San Antonio Community hospital, suffering from a severe concussion.

The car driven by Steve Ures and containing Miss Massey was going south on Mountain avenue as they were returning from Camp Baldy, and is asserted to have failed to make the boulevard stop at Foothill. A car driven west on Foothill boulevard by D. S. Green of Whittier smashed into the side of Ures' auto, which went over the embankment on the southwest corner of the intersection and landed upright in a citrus orchard. The Green automobile remained upright but was swung completely around so that it rested on the southwest shoulder headed east.

Mrs. Green was injured slightly, sustaining shock, cuts and bruises. She received treatment at the San Antonio Community hospital and was released Sunday afternoon. Ures received only minor bruises and was released from the hospital without treatment. Green was uninjured. No charges of traffic violation have as yet been preferred.

For a time it was thought Miss Massey had received a skull fracture, but physicians now definitely declare that no fracture exists, there being a severe concussion of the brain. Rendered unconscious at the time of the accident, the girl regained consciousness late yesterday afternoon, and her condition is slightly improved, according to hospital officials.

TENNIS COURTS TO BE READY IN AUG.

Modern Lighting System Will Make Night Playing a Possibility

Tennis players in all probability will not be able to usethe new tennis courts at the Upand junior high school until Aug. 1, according to C. D. Daniels, superintendent of the school grounds.

That the courts will be equipped with the latest equipment for night playing was announced today. It will be necessary, however, to install a meter and charge a small amount per hour for the use of the lights.

"Although we have completed laying the cement, and the fence is almost up, we will not be able to paint the lines on the courts for several weeks because the chamecal reaction of new cement and paint will cause the lines to peel off unless a sufficient time is given for the alkili to evaporate," says Mr. Daniels

The possibility of an indoor baseball schedule with WPA players pitted against a team sponsored by the recreation department was suggested when a group of WPA officials conferred with Ed Dean, director of the Upland playground, last week. Mr. Dean has already organized a night ball team of youngsters from the playground who compete with other junior teams at Ontario every Thursday evening.

Possibility that a croquet tournament may be started in the near future was made known when Mr. Dean requested the use of a level space of ground south of the new tennis courts for croquet courts. If the use of this space is secured it will further increase the activities of the recreation program. The ping-pong tournament initiated some time ago by Mr. Dean is being reorganized with a group of older boys, and he hopes to have it underway again soon.

Merchants Warned as To Bunco Solicitors

Upland business and professional men are warned of the operations of state wide bunco advertising solicitors, who have appeared in a number of places and secured advertising space purportedly for the California Association of Highway Patrolmen's year book. George F. Monahan, secretary of the association, urges should any such solicitors appear that the nearest state patrol office be notified.

Monahan said hundreds of dollars already had been paid out to solicitors attired as patrolmen and with apparently genuine credentials.

"But they are swindlers," the secretary declared. "We have given them no authorization to represent the association, nor have they any right to pose as officers."

He said solicitations were made in the name of the California Highway Patrol, and California Highway Patrolmen in addition to the association, while the men claimed to represent the following publications:

"The All City Employees' Association Magazine," "California Highway Patrol," California State Employee," or the "Municipal Motorcycle Officers of California."

More and Better Race Horses at County Fair

In Pomona to arrange the 1936 racing schedule for Los Angeles county fair which opens there Sept. 18 and continues through Oct. 4, Frank Lieginger, racing secretary of the Western Fairs association, predicted that the Pomona meet will attract more and better horses in both running and harness divisions than ever before.

Important in the anticipated improvement is the intention of eastern and midwestern owners to bring harness horses west after the close of the Grand Circuit schedule. In addition many coast owners have purchased outstanding horses. Following the lead of many important running stables last year in starting their winter season on the fair track, many additional strings will be brought to Pomona with the same object in view.

Already the track is the scene of considerable activity. Some 200 harness and running horses are in training there and others are arriving. In the meantime improvements on the racing plant are progressing steadily. Five new barns have been finished, bringing the housing capacity to 1000 horses. The overflow will again be sent to Santa Anita.

Mrs. Elam Harmon and daughter, Miss Ruth Harmon, who went to Abilene, Kan., early in this month to accompany the body of their husband and father who was laid to rest there, have returned to their home at 453 Ninth avenue.

Police Exterminate 100 Dogs This Year

During the last year one of the most unpleasant duties of the Upland police department has been the shooting of 100 dogs. These dogs were either drifters without license tags that were reported as annoying people, or animals afflicted with some sort of disease.

"Every few days we get a complaint that an unlicensed dog is disturbing someone, or that an animal is suffering from mange and we are forced to shoot it," says Officer Ralph Dark.

The police department also gets a number of calls from persons desiring to place dogs. Then, too, requests come into police headquarters from people looking for a "nice dog." In this way the officers are able to place a good many dogs in good homes during the course of a year.

Legion to Nominate Candidates Tuesday

At their meeting next Tuesday evening members of the Upland American Legion post will nominate candidates for office for the ensuing year. From the candidates then chosen the new officers will be elected on Aug. 14.

At the meeting next Tuesday the Legionnaires will also choose delegates to represent the post at the annual state department convention to be held in Hollywood on Aug. 10, 11 and 12. The California convention is a larger gathering of veterans than the national convention and 75,000 Legionnaires are expected to attend the Hollywood gathering. Outstanding men of the nation will be on the program and a number of parades will also feature the occasion.

Wife of State Legion Commander Passes

Many Upland members of the American Legion were made sad upon hearing of the death of Mrs. Dan Emmet of Santa Paula. They were known to a number of the Upland Legionnaires. Mrs. Emmet's death, which occurred Sunday, was the result of injuries she suffered in an automobile accident some time during last March. Commander Emmet is a former assemblyman from his district.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Earl Marsh of this city drove to Santa Paula this morning to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Emmet.
